

MISANTHROPE

A world of warcraft guild on Chromaggus EU

Website redesign

As you might have noticed, we have restyled the entire website. A new fresh look for both the main page and the forums! We will continue to develop several new features during these days, so make sure to check back often!

More bosskill videos

As of today we have three to five players recording our bosskills and editing them so that you out there can see the encounter from our Point of view (PoV).

Live raid streams

Live stream our raids through Xfire (www.xfire.com). Note also that x-fire has alot of other features and that its a freeware.

New recruits

The type of players we want are those who are dedicated to their class and their character (alts are fine but must take second place to your main). As such, anybody that applies without 2 levelled professions, poor gem choices or quality, poorly or unenchanted gear, unexplained irregular bad talent choices, or bad gear choices, will be declined before your application is even read.

However, please note that we don't decline anybody solely on gear, anybody who has taken a long break or has rerolled for example will be poorly geared and we accept that. We are looking for the player not the character but all of the above still applies and if you haven't put effort into your character then you're not the type of player we're looking for.

Merger

Misanthrope is the result of a merger between players from 3 long-standing guilds on Outland (previously BladeFist). We recently moved to Chromaggus by using the Free Character Migration service. We were attracted to each through a clear common goal of strong progress and efficient fun raiding, neither of which were suitably attained in our previous guilds.

Raiding

We are a hardcore raiding guild, raiding Sunday-Thursday from 7:30 to 00:00. We have high expectations of our players in their ability to play their class at the highest levels and also their attendance and dedication to the guild. It goes without saying that we will expect the same, if not more, from any prospective trialists.

Since

Misanthrope was formed on the 12th of June, 2009.

Below you will find our progress in the Icecrown Citadel raid instance. Names marked in grey are not defeated content.
